Motion for Leave to File Brief Amici Curiae of the Recording Industry Association of America and the National Music Publishers' Association in Support of Defendants-Appellees on En Banc Rehearing

Danielle M. Aguirre Erich C. MOTION

- 1. This Court previously granted amici RIAA and NMPA's motion for leave to file an amicus brief in support of defendants/appellees' petition for rehearing en banc. However, amici did not fully appreciate the need to re-file their amicus brief after rehearing was granted so that the en banc Court could consider it in its deliberations. The Motion of 123 Songwriters, Composers, Musicians, and Producers, along with NSAI and SONA, filed the day before yesterday, focused amici's attention on this issue, and leads amici to ask this Court's leave to re-file their earlier brief (with minor wording changes that simply reflect the changed procedural posture).
- 2. Defendants-appellees' counsel have consented to the filing of this brief, but plaintiff-appellant's counsel have declined to consent, and stated that they "will leave it to the Court's discretion."
- 3. The RIAA is a nonprofit trade organization representing the American recording industry. RIAA members create, manufacture, and distribute approximately 85% of all legitimate recorded music produced and sold in the United States. The RIAA works to protect the intellectual property and First Amendment rights of artists and music labels, and promotes the ability of the record industry to invest in new artists and new music. The RIAA's members depend on copyrights to protect the valuable performances embodied in sound recordings in which they have invested and created in collaboration with musicians, songwriters, and other artists.

Founded in 1917, the National Music Publishers' Association (NMPA) is the principal trade association representing the U.S. music publishing and songwriting industries. Its membership consists of hundreds of music publishers who own or administer the vast majority of musical compositions licensed for commercial use in the United States.

4. Both the RIAA and the NMPA, and their many members, have a shared interest in protecting copyrighted works and in helping copyright law develop in ways that clarify the law's boundaries. Indeed, the RIAA and the NMPA are in an unusually good position to argue how the decision in this case will affect composers, recording artists, music publishing companies, and record companies.

5. For this reason, proposed amici believe that their brief would be useful to this Court's deliberations, and they therefore seek this Court's leave to re-file the brief.

Respectfully Submitted,

s/ Eugene Volokh Attorney for RIAA

s/ Erich C. Carey Attorney for NMPA Case: 16-56287, 08/01/2019, ID: 11383976, DktEntry: 116-1, Page 5 of 5
